Where He Works, Type Of Training They Need.

He works at the comfort of his own home.

We don't really know how much he makes. (It's like asking an adult how much they make, it's nobody else's business.)

They don't need training to do YouTube.

Jack creates great (in my opinion) content

What I find interesting!

Seán's career has consisted of him meeting his fans, making a lot of new friends and meeting Markiplier and Pewdiepie. He also got to host the "The South by SouthWest Gaming Awards." Which I find interesting!

The Origin of His Name!!!!

McLoughlin got his name "Jack" from his mother and subsequently friend, who gave him the nickname when he was young. His friends started calling him "Jacksepticeye" after he got cut in the eye by his friend's glasses in an accident that happened when he was playing soccer. According to him, the wound bled for quite some time and became infected after a few weeks, hence the name "Jacksepticeye"

Why He Chose To Do YouTube

Jack chose to do YouTube because he loved to play games and he didn't know what to do with his life because in that day and age for him he didn't want to do anything nor did he have any motivation to get a job and so he just had a thought of gaming and uploading it on YouTube. But little did he know that would end up being his job!.

The Reason I Chose To Research Jacksepticeye For My Project Is

I chose this because I'm a huge fan of him and his videos make me very happy. Also I can relate to him a lot.

And he's my favorite YouTuber because of all of his energy and how nice he is.
